The old spit painfully fights the wave
As semen die like ancient stars.

Ah, life!
Mainlands grow!
